

GENERAL SESSION PAPERS - ORAL PRESENTATIONS

AUTHOR NAMES	TITLE
Omri Amiraz	A diachronic explanation for cross-linguistic variation in the use of inverse-scope constructions
Cormac Anderson	Place interactions in varieties of Irish
Iván Andrés-Alba	Ancient Greek καρπός 'wrist' and ἀστράγαλος 'ankle(bone)' as botanic-based metaphors
Reili Argus and Victoria Kazakovskaya	Acquisition of diminutives in typologically different languages: Evidence from Russian and Estonian
Peter Arkadiev	Caritive morphology in Abaza: from derivation to inflection and back
Timofey Arkhangel'skiy	God knows what as an indefinite pronoun
Ignacio Arroyo Hernandez	"Lo único es que" as a pragmatic marker in Spanish. From sentence to discourse.
Amalia Arvaniti	Towards a post-diglossic sound system for Greek
Sandra Auderset, Adam Tallman and Carmen Hernández Martínez	Revisiting clitic phenomena in Mixtec
Peter Auer and Frans Hinskens	Language variation as a one-dimensional vehicle of social meaning. Looking at Eckert's 'cline of interiority' from two perspectives
Gilles Authier	Phonological areas, contact zones and historical gender morphology in East Caucasian
Matthew Baerman, Jeremy Pasquereau and Helen Sims-Williams	Adaptive analogy in Word-and-Paradigm morphology: the case of Seri (isolate) verbs
Khaled Barkaoui	A Longitudinal Study of Metadiscourse Use in Second Language Learners' Writing
Ana Maria Barros Brito	Transparent relative clauses as predicative free relatives: evidence from Portuguese
Carmelo Alessandro Basile	Necessity modals on Singaporean blogs: a contrastive and comparative analysis
Rodolfo Basile	Situative strategies in Finno-Ugric and Beyond
Elena Battaglia	Constructionalization of discourse functions in the history of Italian: a corpus study of 'infatti'
Andreas Baumann	On the role of emotion in lexical reproduction
Kate Bellamy and Martha Mendoza	Associated motion in Purepecha

Erica Biagetti	From Standard Marker to Adaptor: the case of Vedic iva
Gabriela Bilbiie	A non-elliptical analysis of polar verbless clauses
Adina Camelia Bleotu	Denominal verbs and creativity: An experimental approach
Stavros Bompolas and Dimitra Melissaropoulou	Accounting for the Asia Minor Greek dialectal variation: a comparative dialectometric approach
Charlotte Bourgoin, Karen Lahousse and Kristin Davidse	On cleft ellipsis: a syntactic and functional account of reduced c'est-clefts
Kasper Boye and Maria Messerschmidt	Distinguishing lexical and grammatical adpositions
Anna Branets	The role of Language Exposure in Mediated Receptive Multilingualism
Benjamin Brosig	A distinct marker of completion and inadvertence within the tense-aspect-evidentiality-system of Khalkha Mongolian
Jorina Brysbaert and Karen Lahousse	The influence of formality on the expression of contrast in French: A corpus analysis of contrastive adverbs and emphatic pronouns
Irina Burukina	Reflexive pronouns as possessed DPs in Hill Mari
Marta Capano	'kume a se 'tʃama tʃy tɔ mu' dʒe? A case of pragmaticalization in Liguria, Italy.
Gerd Carling, Marc Tang, Silvia Luraghi, Sunny Pydugadu, Olof Lundgren and Filip Larsson	The lexical and typological trajectory of Indo-European gender evolution
Noelia Castro Chao	Pathways from adverbial subordination to complementation: The case of English till and until
Michela Cennamo	Lexico-aspectual constraints on split intransitivity and auxiliary selection in Italo-Romance: variation and change in synchrony and diachrony
Marina Chumakina and Ekaterina Lyutikova	Unusual agreement targets and controller choice: the case of Khwarshi
Jac Conradie	The refurbishment of the Afrikaans past participle
Sonia Cristofaro	Diachronic pathways to constructional harmonies and what they mean for typological universals
Sandra Cronhamn	Semantic Perspectives on Baniwa Classifiers
Sonja Dahlgren	Contact 'iotacism'
Andriy Danylenko	Bessarabian Ukrainian: A New Linguistic Area in the Making?
Anna De Marco and Emanuela Paone	The effect of explicit instruction on the use of discourse markers in Italian as L2
Stefano De Pascale and Dirk Pijpops	Token-based distributional semantics for grammatical alternation research
Noemi De Pasquale and Antoine Guillaume	Associated motion in Western Sicilian: a preliminary account
Isabeau De Smet and Laura Rosseel	Does 'he dived' take longer than 'he dove'? An experimental inquiry into iconic patterns in verb morphology
Sydelle de Souza and Alina Villalva	Root and word-based diminutives in European Portuguese
Stefan Dedio	The diachrony of word-like domains in Welsh
Scott Delancey	The Copula to Negative shift in Kiranti in Tibeto-Burman context: Tracing the onset of Jespersen's Cycle

Anna Maria Di Scullo	Coordinate conjunction extended projection
Bridget Drinka	The Sacral Stamp of Greek: Periphrastic Constructions in New Testament Translations of Latin, Gothic, and Old Church Slavonic
Julien Dufour	Quality-sensitive stress as a language change process in the prehistory of the “Modern South Arabian” branch of the Semitic family
Kepa Erdozia and Noèlia Sanahuja	The Facilitatory Role of L1 Syntax in the Initial Acquisition of L2 Syntax
Riku Erkkilä and Jaakko Helke	Synchrony and diachrony in Ket incorporation
Sebastian Fedden, Matías Guzmán Naranjo and Greville Corbett	Typology meets data-mining: the German gender system
Gertraud Fenk-Oczlon	Languages with more speakers tend to have shorter words, more phonemes per syllable, and more words per clause
Jesús Fernández-Domínguez	English verb-to-noun conversion and its role in nominal compounding
Markku Filppula	Celtic Englishes’ in the light of evidence from The Electronic World Atlas of Varieties of English
Egbert Fortuin	Unbounded repetition, habituality and aspect
Karlien Franco and Dirk Geeraerts	What makes the clock tick? The effect of concept characteristics and sociocultural variation on lexical replacement rates
Michael Franjeh, Greville Corbett and Alexandra Grandison	Cognitive effects of possessive classifiers: visualising complex data with dendrograms
Jacopo Garzonio and Enrico Castro	Unexpected orders in special cells: 1PL and 2PL forms in a Northern Venetan variety
Ulrich Geupel	Affix Rivalry of Ancient Greek Abstract Nouns: A Matter of Domains?
Riccardo Ginevra	Locative Alternation in Proto-Indo-European: a Lexical-Constructional Approach to Historical Semantics and Root Polysemy
Athanasia Gkouma, Maria Andria and Spyridoula Bella	Pragmatic competence in L2 Greek: A longitudinal study of Spanish and Catalan learners
Ager Gondra	Testing the Interface Hypothesis: heritage speakers’ perception and production of Spanish subject position with unergative and unaccusative verbs
Karolina Grzech and Erika Sandman	From egophoric to evidential and back again: Functional similarities of epistemic marking from the Tibetan Plateau and the Amazonian Foothills
Gustavo Guajardo	The Transitivity Index: A continuous measure of Transitivity
Jadranka Gvozdanovic	Subjective modality in western West and South Slavic: complex developments and theoretical implications
Martin Haspelmath	Variable argument marking and the difference between general and particular linguistics
Anna Hatzidaki and Mikel Santesteban	Emotional attractors in subject-verb number agreement
Elisabeth Heisenberger and Elissa Pustka	Orthography: Leading part or minor part? The emergence of liaison in French as a foreign language

Lars Hellan	Norwegian Valence Dictionary (NorVal)
Tiit Hennoste, Külli Habicht, Helle Metslang, Külli Prillop, Kirsi Laanesoo, Liina Pärismaa, Elen Pärt, Andra Rumm, Andriela Rääbis and Carl Eric Simmul	I think, I hope, it seems: complement-taking predicates as discourse markers in different registers in Estonian
Borja Herce	The diachrony of inflection classes: what can information-theoretic measures and quantitative approaches contribute to historical linguistics?
Annette Herkenrath	A parallel text approach to impersonality in written academic Turkish and Kurmanji Kurdish
Alberto Hijazo-Gascon and Maria Andria	Semantic contrasts in deictic motion between Modern Greek and Spanish
Helen Hint, Piia Taremaa, Maria Reile and Renate Pajusalu	Is referential choice affected by text type?
Sampsa Holopainen	Assessing irregular and “sporadic” developments in the prehistory of Hungarian vocalism
Marianne Hundt and Eva Zehentner	Competition in the history of English verbal argument structure: NPs vs PPs
Monica Irimia	DOM co-occurrence restrictions in Romance: beyond clitic clusters
Aleksandra Jarosz	Proto-Ryukyuan ‘rice’ words and the spread of Japonic into the Ryukyu islands
Dawei Jin	Complex NP island effects are stronger in why-questions: An experimental study
Pavlina Kalm	Semantics of Locative Instruments in English
Andra Kalnača and Ilze Lokmane	The Latvian vocative – morphology and syntax interface
Anna Kampanarou	Three types of existential constructions in Greek: their distribution and syntax.
Jessica Kantarovich	Inverse marking as a type of object agreement: Evidence from Chukchi
Csilla Kász	Cognate Accusative Noun Phrases in the Qur’an - A Contribution to the Discussion on Cognate Objects
Kultida Khammee and Seongha Rhee	Small and cute? Small and bad?: Semantic network of diminutives in Thai and Korean
Anatoliy Khudoliy	Metaphors as Persuasive Tools in D. Trump Public Discourse
Soung-U Kim	Non-canonical egophoric marking in Jejuan
Seppo Kittilä	The unspecified external evidence particle vissiin of Finnish
Ibtissem Knouzi and Noah Khan	ESL Student-initiated questions: an interactional ethnography case study
Nikolas Koch, Antje Endesfelder Quick and Stefan Hartmann	Discourse priming and individual differences in first language acquisition. A traceback approach
Petr Kocharov	Default meaning and root levelling of the history of the Armenian verb
Martin Kohlberger	Building bridges between cartography and the documentation of endangered knowledge
Daria Konior and Andrey Sobolev	Profiling of dialect speakers: an experimental study in South Slavia
Linda Konnerth	How does clusivity disappear? A historical microtypology of South-Central Trans-Himalayan

Dominika Kovarikova	Corpus Study of Grammatical Categories: the GrammatiCat Online Tool
Olga Krasnoukhova	Typology of standard negation: Insights and lessons from South American languages
Andra Kütt and Reili Argus	Acquisition of referentiality in elicited narratives of Estonian-speaking children
Natalia Kuznetsova, Irina Brodskaya and Elena Markus	Isochrony and “anti-isochrony” in the Soikkola Ingrian trisyllabic foot
Mary C. Lavissière and Laurent Fedi	Unfreezing legal genres: maritime shipping agreements and diachronic variation
Oksana Lebedivna	Change of Common Slavic O to I in Southwest Ukrainian: The Case of the Kryvorivnja Dialect
Natalia Levshina	Bounded rationality and limited efficiency: From binary trade-offs to a causal network of Subject and Object cues
Chang Liu	Two types of Presentational Amalgam Constructions in Mandarin Chinese
Clara Lombart	Prosody, gesture and information structure in interaction: the case of contrastive focus in French
Ellison Luk	Constructing conditionals in Australian languages: a typological study
Silvia Luraghi	Beyond affectedness - Partitive objects and degrees of agenthood in Ancient Greek
Borana Lushaj	The gradience of Middle Albanian vowel length contrasts
Marcia dos Santos Machado Vieira	Support verb complex predicates in Portuguese varieties
Vasiliki Makri	Borrowed nouns: Gender change in the diachrony of Heptanesian Greek?
Yael Maschler and Anna Inbar	Causality and epistemic stance: A multimodal analysis of Hebrew ki ‘because’-clauses in talk-in-interaction
Florian Matter	Irregular first person inflections in Cariban: converging factors for morphological (dis-)similarity
Simone Mattiola and Andrea Sansò	A typology of denominal verb formation
Lidia Mazzitelli	Genericity and habituality in Lakurumau
Giulia Mazzola	From Distance to Immediacy: asyndetic complements in Classical and Present-day Spanish
Johanna Miecznikowski, Elena Battaglia and Christian Geddo	Addressee-centered evidential markers in talk-in-interaction. The case of Italian ‘vedere’+‘che’ constructions
Liljana Mitkovska, Eleni Bužarovska and Nataša Stojanovska-Ilievska	Crosslinguistic influence in Second Language Acquisition: post-verbal subjects in L2 English
Janina Molczanow, Beata Łukaszewicz and Anna Łukaszewicz	Duration adjustment mechanisms in Ukrainian: the case of pretonic lengthening
Lucia Molinu	The athematic infinitives in old Sardinian
Zarina Molochieva and Zaira Khalilova	Proper names in the Nakh-Daghestanian languages
Steven Moran, Nicholas Lester and Eitan Grossman	Inferring recent evolutionary changes in speech sounds
Ricardo Napoleão de Souza and Josefina Bittar	Final Lengthening in Paraguayan Guaraní: Phonological and Morphosyntactic Variables

Rexhina Ndoci	In-group and out-group perceptions of a Greek L2 variety: The case of Albanian Greek
Dirk Noël	Constructional attrition in a radically usage-based model of language (change)
Miina Norvik, Uldis Balodis, Valts Ernštreits, Gunta Kļava, Helle Metslang, Karl Pajusalu and Eva Saar	Typological convergence in the Central Baltic area
Maryam Nourzaei	The emergence of definiteness Marking from Evaluative Morphology in Persian: Internal Variation and Diachronic Pathway
Jan Nuyts	Explaining the re-autonomization process in the Dutch modals
Colleen O'Brien	Argumenthood of non-focused elements in Philippine-type languages
Alejandra Ortiz, Sergio Ibañez Cerda and Armando Mora	Verbal diminutive morphology in the Colombian Spanish from the Andes
Tania Paciaroni	Partitive constructions in Gascon: A Romance perspective
Manuel Padilla Cruz	Ad hoc concepts and non-propositional meaning
Giada Palmieri and Renato Miguel Basso	On the ambiguity of se-clauses and the role of natural reflexivity in Brazilian Portuguese
Mariagrazia Palumbo and Anna De Marco	Metadiscursive discourse markers in a corpus of Italian migrants in Munich
Panagiotis Panagopoulos, Maria Andria and George Mikros	Exploring the development of written syntactic complexity in L2 Greek: The case of Spanish and Catalan L1 learners
Anastasia Panova	On independent pronouns in languages with pronominal affixes: Evidence from Abaza
Jeremy Pasquereau and Patricia Cabredo Hofherr	Degree constructions in Seri
Theodossia-Soula Pavlidou, Lena Gialabouki, Angeliki Alvanoudi and Christos Ananiadis	From the recipients' perspective: m/m(h)m and nods in Greek conversations
Laura Peiró-Márquez and Iraide Ibarretxe-Antuñano	Motion events in Spanish from a multimodal perspective: what gesture reveals about non easily encodable semantic components and its congruency
Yana Penkova	Future anterior in Ruthenian as a key to understanding its evolution in East Slavic
Erika Petrocchi	Prosody of Emotions. The relation between (prosodical) linguistic and affective functions of nonmanual components in Sign Language.
Jozefien Piersoul, Freek Van de Velde and Dirk Pijpops	How meaning change can cause form change: the origin and evolution of the Dutch psych verb alternation
Pekka Posio and Riie Heikkilä	Variation and change in the expression and functions of the first-person singular in six European newspapers, from 1960 to 2010
Valentin Radulescu and Daniel Van Olmen	Impersonalization in Romanian versus English
Maria Laura Restivo	On the development of the particles formed with the Italian adverb 'pur(e)'
Eric Reuland	Variation in Binding Patterns

Seongha Rhee	Functional Competition and Complementation among Multiple Forms: The Case of Layered Korean Datives
Nikolaus Ritt, Magdalena Schwarz, Theresa Matzinger, Andreas Baumann and Vanja Vukovic	Quantifying changes in gender bias in the Google Books Corpus
Raquel P. Romasanta	Language contact and substrate language effect in Asian varieties of English
Kristian Roncero	Back in the future: the unexpected fate of West Polesian de-obligative and de-volitive future grams
Laura Ros García	Eventualities within the nominal domain: The case of 'no + event deverbal nominal' in Spanish
Malte Rosemeyer and Eitan Grossman	Why don't grammaticalization pathways always recur?
Corinne Rossari, Claudia Ricci, Linda Sanvido and Cyrielle Montrichard	Modality and argumentative patterns
Julian Andrej Rott and Ana Krajinović	From formation to alternation: The case of the Nafsan psych domain
Fedor Rozhanskiy and Elena Markus	The development of Votic-Ingrian convergent varieties: evidence from a chain rune
Cristina Ruiz-Alonso	On definite article el: a spell-out of inherent case? Evidence from Spanish
Eloisa Ruppert, Freek Van de Velde and Hubert Cuyckens	The influence of demographic changes on the morphological and syntactic complexity of German
Vieri Samek-Lodovici	Defining Contrast
Noèlia Sanahuja and Kepa Erdozia	The Impact of Lexical Co-activation through Cognates on L2 Rule Learning
Eneile Saraiva and Marcia Machado Vieira	Indeterminacy and impersonalization in Brazilian Portuguese discursive practices
Anju Saxena, Lars Borin and Bernard Comrie	Himalayan linguistic prehistory in a new light
Marcel Schlechtweg and Holden Härtl	The processing of scare quotes in English
Svenja Schmid and Laura González López	On vocative positions in Spanish wh-interrogatives: new insights into the left periphery
Magdalena Schwarz, Theresa Matzinger and Nikolaus Ritt	Assessing the effect of shared language and other social group markers on trust
Ilja Seržant	Typology of partitives
Olena Shcherbakova, Damián Blasi, Volker Gast, Russell Gray and Simon Greenhill	Evolution of case systems
Leon Shor, Anna Inbar, Yael Reshef and Einat Gonen	From deixis to vagueness: Hedging expressions in Modern Hebrew
Agnieszka Słoboda	Borrowing, reanalysis and extension as mechanisms underlying syntactic changes of structures with infinitive in Old Polish
Andrey N. Sobolev	How much "dialect" does contemporary oral speech production in a "base" South Slavic patoi contain?
Piotr Sobotka and Magdalena Żabowska	An adverb in a dynamic perspective - the mechanisms of decategorialization and discursization of adverbs in the northern Slavic languages

Marzena Stępień	Polish deconverbal discourse markers with the exponent of negation
Vassilis Symeonidis and Nikolaos Lavidas	Changes in linguistic complexity and the diachrony of anticausatives in Greek
Nafiseh Taghva, Vahideh Abolhasani Zadeh and Amirsaied Moloodi	Durational rhythmic variability of Persian between-sentence
Luigi Talamo, Stefania Degaetano-Ortlieb, Katrin Menzel, Ekaterina Lapshinova-Koltunski, Yuri Bizzoni, Tania Avgustinova and Annemarie Verkerk	Surprisal and information structure of human referents across syntactic roles: evidence from European languages
Piia Taremaa	The expression of motion speed in a morphologically rich language
Denys Teptiuk and Johannes Hirvonen	Perspective shift in reported discourse of Finno-Ugric languages
Miriam Thegel	Language change across registers: competing Spanish modals in the 18th and 19th centuries
Marili Tomingas	Frequently used discourse particles and their functions in spoken Livonian recordings
Pâmela Travassos and Marcia Dos Santos Machado Vieira	Constructional variation: a cross-linguistic comparison
Beata Trawinski	Negation Raising as a Semi-Performative Operation. Corpus Evidence from Polish and German
Eleni Tzimopoulou, Jenny Hartman and Carita Paradis	Cross modality in audition - Descriptions and experience ratings of everyday acousmatic sounds
Freek Van de Velde and Isabeau De Smet	An alternative to generalized linear models: Markov models for multi-state language change
Johan van der Auwera, Motoki Nomachi and Olga Krasnoukhova	Balto-Slavic connective negation and negative concord
An Van Linden	Where alienability accounts fall short: Bound nouns in Harakmbut
Sébastien Vandenitte	Comparing multimodal quotation in a sign and a spoken language: a pilot study on enactment in LSFB and Belgian French utterance reports
João Veloso	Segment complexity and segment inherent weight : the behaviour of palatality in Portuguese
Åke Viberg	Semantic extensions across semantic fields and languages A contrastive study of the patterns of polysemy of Cutting and Breaking verbs in English and Swedish
Ferdinand von Mengden	The dialectics of loss and upgrading in language change
Katherine Walker and Eva van Lier	Alternating pronominal indexing in Kamang
Björn Wiemer	Boundedness in present and future: Implicational hierarchies in the treatment of non-deictic present tense
Sally Wong, Eric Reuland and Martin Everaert	The peculiar blocking effect in the complement of Mandarin zi-verbs
Magdalena Wrembel, Ulrike Gut, Romana Kopečková and Anna Balas	Perception and production of L2 and L3 rhotics in young multilinguals; an exploratory cross-linguistic study
Jingting Ye	Frequency and coding patterns of adjectives: a cross-linguistic corpus study

Ka-Fai Yip and Benjamin Tsou	Differential Metaphorization and Grammaticalization in Chinese Light Verbs
Aigul Zakirova	From noun plural to plural agreement: evidence from Andi dialects.
Eugen Zaretsky and Benjamin P. Lange	Phonological short-term memory: Does ethnic background matter?
Marius Zemp, Fernando Zúñiga and Benjamin Brosig	On the link between evidentiality and egophoricity in languages of the Greater Himalayan Region
Iuliia Zubova, Denys Teptiuk and Eda-Riin Leego	On syntactic and semantic adaptation of Russian discourse particles ved' and že in Eastern Finno-Ugric languages

WORKSHOP PRESENTATIONS

AUTHOR NAMES	TITLE
WS 1: ADJECTIVE: THE UNKNOWN CATEGORY Convenors: Alexander Peter Pfaff & Alexandra Rehn
Rong Chen	Dependency Reversal in Central African Languages
Alison Biggs and Zhuosi Luo	The morphosyntax and semantics of Adjective Classifiers
Mirella L. Blum	On the definition of adjectives in Dinka
Gjorgje Bozhoviq	Adjectives in Albanian: Evidence from Negation
Viktor Koehlich	The Adjective Category in Japanese
Charles Lam	Adjectives in Cantonese Are Not Verbs
Lanko Marusic and Rok Žaucer	A definite article inside the AP domain
Merit Müller	Adjective attribution marking in Aanaar Saami: A determinant of the adjectival category?
Svetlana Petrova	Strong and weak adjectives in Old High German: A corpus study
Arturas Ratkus	Definite adjective forms in early Germanic: From nominal periphrasis to agreement
Vasiliki Rizou, Foteini Karkaletsou, Nikolaos Tsokanos and Artemis Alexiadou	What heritage languages can tell us about the category adjective: evidence from Heritage Greek
Paulette Roulon-Doko	Adjective versus Ideophone in an African language, a typological problem
Petra Sleeman	Deverbal categories in French: verbs, adjectives or both?
WS 2: ARTIFICIAL/PERIPHERAL STRUCTURES: WHAT CAN THEY TELL US ABOUT THE (MORPHO)PHONOLOGY OF NATURAL LANGUAGES Convenors: Nina Topintzi & Giorgos Markopoulos
Birgit Alber, Sabine Arndt-Lappe and Joachim Kokkelmans	Truncation, clippings and blends: universal structures and their variation
Noam Faust	QoTeT paradigm migration in Modern Hebrew: A minor pattern with major implications

Athina Kikiopoulou and Nina Topintzi	Weight effects in Greek? Insights from binomials
Joachim Kokkelmans	Nonce words in research on language contact-induced hybrid grammars: Brussels French
Theodoros Lyriotakis	Peripheral and artificial structures in French L3 interlanguage grammar: The case of nonce loanblends
Julian Lysvik and Maria Evjen	Artificial Language Learning experiment shows that native Norwegian speakers avoid word-final voicing
Kalomoira Nikolou and Anthi Revithiadou	Gradient phonological similarity in blend formation
Kevin Tang and Dinah Baer-Henney	The necessity of modelling lexical effects during artificial language learning paradigm
Marc van Oostendorp	Esperanto Phonology As A Large-Scale Linguistic Experiment
WS 3: BUILDING MODALITY WITH SYNTAX: FOCUS ON ANCIENT GREEK Convenors: Camille Denizot & Liana Tronci
Rutger Allan	In a Mello Mood. The Greek Auxiliary Méllo between Tense, Aspect, and Modality
Marina Benedetti and Chiara Gianollo	Modal uses of knowledge verbs in Ancient Greek
Klaas Bentein	Modeling the syntax of Ancient Greek modal particles: Reconsidering dê in Classical historiography
Michele Bianconi, Felicia Logozzo and Elisabetta Magni	Syntactic expressions of modality: optatives and 'optatival constructions' in the Greek of the Gospels
Jesús de la Villa and Jesús Polo	Completive hoti vs ho:s as mark of evidentiality in Ancient Greek. Synchrony and diachrony.
Giuseppina Di Bartolo	Counterfactual conditions in colloquial Ancient Greek
Ezra la Roi	A diachronic syntax of counterfactual mood attraction from Archaic to Classical Greek
Rafael Martinez	Expressing modality via parenthetical accord clauses in ancient Greek
Martin Masliš	Evidentiality and complementation in Ancient Greek: the inferential gradient in the synchronic distribution of complementation strategies
Antonio R. Revuelta Puigdollers	Mood in clause combination: formal and pragmatic features
Emilia Ruiz-Yamuzá	Conditional subordinate clauses and verbal moods: a case study
Rodrigo Verano	Modality, (Inter)subjectivity and Politeness in Addressee-Oriented Assertions in the Dialogues of Plato

WS 4: CAUSATION: FROM CONCEPT TO GRAMMAR
Convenors: Marta Donazzan, Clémentine Raffy & Klaus von Heusinger
Artemis Alexiadou	The building blocks of causation: evidence from non-canonical realization
Ben Ambridge	Speakers' preference for more versus less-transparent causatives: Computational modeling, grammaticality judgment and production data from English, Hebrew, Hindi, Japanese and K'iche'
Andrea Ariño-Bizarro and Iraide Ibarretxe-Antuñano	Speakers' preferences for the conceptualisation and encoding of causative constructions in Spanish
Elitzur Bar-Asher Siegal, Noa Bassel and York Hagmayer	Causes and Conditions
Bridget Copley	Intentions and dispositions
Renata Enghels	The causative constructional network in Spanish: a stringent case of language productivity at work
Vittorio Ganfi and Valentina Piunno	Causativity and Complex Prepositions in Italian and Romance languages
Lilián Guerrero	Opportunistic jussive predicates in Yaqui
Jens Hopperdietzel, Malte Zimmermann and Mary Amaechi	Force calculation is cyclic
Olga Kagan	A Force-Dynamic Approach to Perfectivity
Iva Novakova and Yanka Bezinska	Causation in Bulgarian: evidence from 3- to 6-year-old monolingual children
Monika Rind-Pawłowski	Causative Constructions in Khinalug
Lucia Tovena	Enabling and causes
WS 5: COGNITIVE MECHANISMS DRIVING LANGUAGE CHANGE
Convenors: Carola Trips, Achim Stein, Yela Schauwecker & Michael Percillier
Seckin Arslan	Restructuring in grammatical evidentiality in Turkish as a heritage language and implications for cognitive modulators of contact-induced change
María Eugenia Arthuis Blanco	A psycholinguistic approach to feature borrowability in historical contact scenarios
Alexander Bergs	Language contact and language change from a constructional perspective
Timothy Coleman	On the role of contact in the emergence of two new argument structure constructions in present-day Afrikaans
Ailís Cournane	Experimental acquisition evidence that children may drive modal verb incrementation

Ulrike Demske	Syntactic Change and Language Processing: Extraposition in the History of German
Maia Duguine and Aritz Irurtzun	Mechanisms triggering the use of bare nouns in a language without bare nouns
John Hawkins and Luna Filipovic	On bilingualism-induced language change: What will change, when and why?
Nicole Hober	The implications of linguistic awareness for contact-induced change
Guglielmo Inglese and Anne Wolfgruber	The rise of non-oppositional middle verbs: the case of Old French
Gerrit Jan Kootstra	Cross-linguistic structural priming as a potential mechanism of contact-induced language change
Savithry Nambodiripad	Shared processing strategies as a mechanism for contact-induced change in flexible constituent order
Marlieke Shaw and Hendrik De Smet	Loan word accommodation biases in Dutch and Middle English: a question of processing cost?
Michelle Troberg	The role of analytic vagueness in the loss of Old French directional particles
Sophia Voigtmann	Information Density as a Measurement of Processing Difficulties in Historical Data
WS 6: COMPLEX PREDICATES ACROSS LANGUAGES: VARIATION AND ACQUISITION (COMPLANG)
Convenors: Olga Borik, Silvia Sánchez & Ismael Teomiro
Yanka Bezinska	Complex Causative Predicates of French and Bulgarian Children aged 3 to 6 years
Paolo Della Putta and Francesca Strik Lievers	How complex are verbal periphrases to learn and unlearn? The case of <ir/andare a + infinitive> from L1 Spanish to L2 Italian
Yoshio Endo	The syntax and semantics of multiple V-V-V constructions
Fatemeh Faroughi	Persian Complex Predicates, Syntactic or Morphological Units
Kazuhiko Fukushima	Complex Predicates as a Testing Ground for Linguistic Theories/Concepts
Fedor Golosov	Telicizing light verbs in Poshkart Chuvash
Emre Hakguder, Lenore Grenoble and Jessica Kantarovich	Complex Predicates in a Language Shift Environment: Sakha
Laura Horváth	Udmurt Complex Predicates with 'give', 'throw' and 'leave'
Ivan Kapitonov and Pavel Rudnev	In support of post-syntactic head movement: loanword accommodation in Kunbarlang verb phrases
Eva Kardos, Marton Janosy, Gergely Petho and Andrea Szavo	Crosslinguistic influence in L3 acquisition: evidence for non-facilitative transfer from the acquisition of resultatives in L3 Spanish
Marin Kežić	The role of image and force-dynamic schemas in the formation of Croatian complex predicates: the case of the light verb baciti

Zaira Khalilova	Complex verbs in Bezhta
Hideki Kishimoto	The Roles of Verbs and Nouns in Japanese Light Verb Constructions
Bracha Nir	Predicate chaining and clause complexes in Hebrew and English: A discourse-based analysis
Anna Pompei	Verb-particle constructions and prefixed verbs: a case of applicative formation? A diachronic perspective on complex verb formation
Tihomir Rangelov	Coverbs in the languages of Vanuatu and beyond
Patricia Schneider-Zioga and Kenneth Van Bik	Pretending in Lai
William Snyder	Complex Predicates: Connecting Crosslinguistic Variation to Acquisition
Maria Luisa Zubizarreta	Morpho-syntactic and Prosodic Cues in Complex Predicates. A Case Study.
WS 7: CONSTRUCTIONAL ANALYSIS IN MULTIMODAL PERSPECTIVE Convenors: Mirjam Fried, Kiki Nikiforidou & Alex Bergs
Angeliki Alvanoudi	The Negative-Directive-Construction in Greek: Pragmatic and prosodic aspects of de mu les? ('tell me')
Roberta Cicchirillo, Claudia Roberta Combei, Francesca Masini and Miriam Voghera	The prosody of list constructions
Svetlana Dachkovsky, Shirit Cohen-Koka, Rose Stamp and Bracha Nir	Multimodal Signs: PALM-UP as a Textual Discourse Marker
Anna Inbar	Rectification constructions in Israeli Hebrew: A multimodal approach
Jakub Jehlička and Eva Lehečková	From boundaries to contours – a multimodal-construal approach to aspectuality
Claudia Lehmann	An integrated approach to multimodal ironic constructions
Manon Lelandais	A multimodal approach to syntactic coordination in spontaneous conversation
Pavel Machač and Mirjam Fried	Utterance comprehension in spontaneous speech: phonetic reductions and syntactic context
Kiki Nikiforidou	Multimodality, conventionality and inheritance in dialogic constructions
Marina Terkourafi	Exploring relations between constructions
Peter Uhrig	Exploring the interaction of gesture and prosody in a large corpus
Arie Verhagen	Construction grammar, multimodal communication, and design features of language: Preliminaries to a coherent research program

WS 8: CONTINUATIVE AND CONTRASTIVE DISCOURSE RELATIONS ACROSS DISCOURSE DOMAINS: COGNITIVE AND CROSS-LINGUISTIC APPROACHES

Convenors: Matthias Klumm, Anita Fetzer & Evelien Keizer

Cecilia Maria Andorno, Sandra Benazzo and Christine Dimroth	More than one Contrast. Crosslinguistic and intralinguistic comparison of Contrast marking through task-elicited speech
Amalia Canes-Nápoles	Discourse markers as topic managers. But how exactly?
Doriana Cimmino	Contrastive discourse relations and non-canonical syntax. A case study of Left Dislocations in spoken and written Italian
Ludivine Crible	Connectives and other discourse signals: Parallelism in addition and contrast
Debopam Das and Markus Egg	Continuity in discourse: A case study on causal and contrastive relations
Anita Fetzer and Matthias Klumm	The linguistic realization of Continuation and Elaboration in (English) discourse: A context-based analysis across narrative and argumentative genres
Carolin Harthan	Initial vs. Medial Placement of Contrastive Linking Adverbials in Written Present-Day English
Na Hu, Aoju Chen, Fang Li, Hugo Quené and Ted Sanders	The role of prosody in expressing subjective and objective causality in Mandarin discourse
Mitsuko Izutsu and Katsunobu Izutsu	When discursive glue comes off: Japanese contrastive and continuative connectives in spoken discourse
Ekkehard König	Towards a typology of contrastive relations and contrastive connectives
Marian Marchal, Pim Mak and Ted Sanders	Genre-based expectations for coherence relations
Elena Martínez Caro	Digression, topic resumption and discourse coherence: Comparing English and Spanish
Amália Mendes, Deniz Zeyrek and Giedre Giedrė Valūnaitė Oleškevičienė	Explicit and implicit relations of continuity and contrast in a multilingual discourse bank
Inés Recio Fernández and Óscar Loureda	Processing causal and counter-argumentative connected discourse
Augustin Speyer	Discourse relations and the German prefield
Mathis Wetzel and Sandrine Zufferey	How do Learners process Continuous and Discontinuous Relations?

WS 9: DISSECTING MORPHOLOGICAL THEORY 1: DIMINUTIVIZATION ACROSS LANGUAGES AND FRAMEWORKS

Convenors: Stela Manova, Boban Arsenijevic, Laura Grestenberger & Katharina Korecky-Kröll

Angel Alonsocortés	Diminutive formation in Spanish : evidence for word morphology
Boban Arsenijevic and Marko Simonovic	Diminution, categorization and declension class in Serbo-Croatian
Wolfgang Dressler, Elisa Mattiello and Veronika Ritt-Benmimoun	Typological impact of morphological richness and priority of pragmatics over semantics in Italian, Arabic, German, and English diminutives
László Fejes	Borrowed or inspired? Komi diminutive under Russian influence
Laura Grestenberger and Dalina Kallulli	Verbal diminutives and cross-categorial syncretism
Camiel Hamans	The parallel between diminutives, hypocoristics and embellished clippings in English and Dutch
Lina Inčiuraitė-Noreikienė and Bonifacas Stundžia	Diminutivization in Lithuanian: The case of noun borrowing
Silva Nurmio and Olga Kagan	Diminutive or singulative? The suffixes -in and -k in Russian
Mirena Patseva	Prosodic factors in the selection of Bulgarian diminutive suffixes in the perspective of Headmost accent theory
Peter Rebrus, Péter Szigetvári and Miklós Törkenczy	Diminutives: Templatic morphology in an agglutinative language
Maria Rosenberg	The Swedish suffix -is and its place in the theory of diminutivization
Dmitri Sitchinava and Stela Manova	Slavic diminutive morphology: An interplay of scope, templates and paradigms
Olga Steriopolo, Giorgos Markopoulos and Vassilios Spyropoulos	Parameters of variation in the syntax of expressive size suffixes: Case studies of Russian, German, Spanish, and Greek
Elizaveta Tarasova and José Antonio Sánchez Fajardo	Pejorative suffixation in present-day English: A sociolinguistic analysis of -ie and -o nominalisations
Utku Türk	Decomposing so-called diminutives in Turkish
Maria D. Voeikova	Structural functions of diminutives in modern Russian

WS 10: EVIDENTIAL STRATEGIES. DESCRIPTION AND EXPLANATION
Convenors: María Isabel Pérez Jiménez, Silvia Gumiel Molina & Aoife K. Ahern
Aoife Ahern, Jose Amenos-Pons and Pedro Guijarro-Fuentes	Evidentiality from a developmental perspective: conjectural future in Catalan / Spanish bilinguals
Angeles Carrasco	On evidentiality and perception. Ambivalent adjectives in the Spanish non-finite complements of ver, 'see'
Hans-Jörg Döhla and Anja Hennemann	When an evidential becomes a contact-induced evidential strategy. The case of Guaraní particles in Paraguayan Spanish
Victoria Escandell-Vidal	Testing evidential interpretations with estar+ILP. A preliminary survey
Edita Gutiérrez-Rodríguez and Pilar Pérez-Ocón	Evidentiality and variation in the complementizer phrase: the case of deísmo
Elly Ifantidou and Lemonia Tsavdaridou	Mirative evidentials and non-propositional meaning
Víctor Lara-Bermejo	The creation of evidentiality in Ibero-Romance
Manuel Leonetti	Individual-level predicates, locative adjuncts and perspectivization
Eric Mélaç	Evidentiality and its grammaticalization in French: A contrastive study based on a spoken French-Tibetan corpus
Sara Sanchez-Alonso, Fraibet Aveledo and Maria Pinango	The Acquisition of Spanish Copula Verbs in 4-12-year-old Children
Jennifer Tan	Evidential value of Spanish igual
Elena Vilinbakhova	Evidential interpretations of Spanish uno vs. English one: evidence from parallel corpora
Rodica Zafiu	From context-dependent evidential strategies to grammatical specialization: how the Romanian conjectural future becomes a presumptive mood
Chiara Zanchi	Evidentiality in Herodotus' Histories: a first survey
WS 11: EXPERIMENTAL APPROACHES TO ROMANCE MORPHOSYNTAX
Convenors: Senta Zeugin, Albert Wall, Philipp Obrist, Johannes Kabatek & Patrick Santos Rebelo
Aixiu An and Anne Abeillé	Gender agreement with coordinated nouns in French : an experimental approach
Begoña Arechabaleta Regulez and Silvina Montrul	An Experimental Investigation of Language Variation and Change in Mexican Spanish
Iria de-Dios-Flores and Juan Carlos Acuña-Fariña	Lexical control in Spanish obligatory complement control constructions: examining the contrast between subject and object control verbs.

Irene Fally and Eva Smolka	Experimental Perspectives on Romance Prefix Verbs
Martín Fuchs	Experimental methods for language variation and change in Spanish
Vicky Leonetti and Jacopo Torregrossa	Investigating the interpretation of null and overt pronouns in Spanish by means of a graded judgement task and a sentence continuation task
Sophie Mürmann	Differential Object Marking and agentivity in Sicilian and Catalan. Evidence from an acceptability judgement study
Philipp Obrist, Albert Wall, Senta Zeugin, Johannes Kabatek and Patrick Santos Rebelo	Combining elicitation tasks and acceptability judgments in search of infrequent structures; A case study in Differential Marking of inanimate-reference objects in Spanish
Diego Romero Heredero	Affectedness and Differential Object Marking in Spanish: a double perspective study
Alina Tigau and Klaus Von Heusinger	Romanian direct object marking and discourse prominence – Experimental evidence from a paragraph continuation task
Alina Villalva	Core issues in the field of experimental morphology
Klaus Von Heusinger and Marco Garcia Garcia	Differential Object Marking and discourse prominence in Spanish
Carmen Widera	An experimental analysis of the variable use of il in finite impersonal constructions in modern spoken French
Senta Zeugin	Differential Object Marking and language contact: an experimental study of Spanish and Romanian
WS 12: ICONICITY IN PROSAIC LEXICON
Convenor: Ian Joo
Aleksandra Cwiek	Are German Pokémon Names Sound-Symbolic?
Maria Flaksman	Hidden iconicity: de-iconization of Russian and English imitative lexicons
Bonnie McLean, Michael Dunn and Mark Dingemanse	Two measures are better than one: combining ratings and guessing experiments for a more nuanced picture of iconicity in the lexicon
Keiko Murasugi and Kimi Akita	Japanese binomial adjectives
Lalita Murty and Vasanta Duggirala	Iconicity of Adverbial Nouns of Time and Space in Telugu
José Antonio Sánchez Fajardo	Iconic prosody and prosaic bases: a construction-based analysis of words ending in {o} in contemporary English

WS 13: INDEXICALITY
Convenors: Peter Juul Nielsen & María Sol Sansiñena
Henning Andersen	The price of indexicality. The view from isomorphism
Karin Beijering	The development of (self)benefactive double object constructions in Norwegian
Hans-Olav Enger	Multifunctional indexes: two Scandinavian examples
Teresa Flera	Indexicality in Contexts of Literary Fiction
Livio Gaeta	Evolutionary steps for linguistic signs: the role of indexicality
Lars Heltoft	Domain-straddling indexicality - the Greenlandic causative
Binene Horchani	Indexicality of transcategorial morphemes
Caterina Mauri and Francesca Masini	Multi-layered indexicality
Stepan Mikhailov	Losing indices: How an anaphoric article developed from a 2SG possessive in Northern Khanty
Francois Nemo	Indexicality in the minimal/non-minimal (or less minimal) sign relationship
Peter Juul Nielsen	From symbol to index: the semiotic alignment of the Danish free indirect object
Katja Politt and Gabriele Diewald	Paradigmaticization as indexicalization: German "medio-passive" constructions with and without lassen
Stéphane Robert	Beyond insubordination: a Wolof verbal form indexing situational dependency
Stef Spronck	Are there non-indexical expressions?
Eva Zehentner	The history of the English dative alternation: from morphosyntax to pragmatics
WS 14: INTEGRATING SOCIOLINGUISTICS AND TYPOLOGICAL PERSPECTIVES ON LANGUAGE VARIATION
Convenors: Silvia Ballarè, Francesca Di Garbo, Guglielmo Inglese & Eri Kashima
Alessandra Barotto, Simone Mattioli and Caterina Mauri	A socio-typological approach to conditionals: focus on counterfactuals
Laura Becker, Matías Guzmán Naranjo and Samira Ochs	The influence of sociolinguistic factors on conditional constructions
Bert Cornillie and Malte Rosemeyer	Syntactic elaboration: the case of auxiliation in the realm of communicative distance
Peter Dekker, Marian Klamer and Bart de Boer	Analysing contact-induced simplification in Alorese using agent-based models
Nina Dobrushina	Intra-language variation in a typological perspective

Minella Duzerol	Variation in Martinican complementation: a sociogrammatical approach
Lorenzo Ferrarotti	Isolation and Complexification: some Evidence from Northern Italian Dialects
Anja Hasse and Guido Seiler	Filling the gap in a typology of mixed languages
Jonathon Lum, Bill Palmer, Alice Gaby and Jonathan Schlossberg	Sociolinguistic and typological variation in frames of spatial reference
Mara Marsella	The copula system in Palenquero. A preliminary variationist study
Susanne Maria Michaelis	The systematic contributions of substrates and lexifiers in creolization
Adriano Murelli	A scale of standardness for relative constructions in European varieties?
John Peterson	A sociolinguistic-typological approach to the linguistic prehistory of South Asia
Itxaso Rodríguez-Ordóñez	Variation, the role of frequency and social indexicality in the acquisition of Basque ergativity
Konstantinos Sampanis, Utku Türk and Umut Gülsün	Defining borrowing hierarchies in the light of sociolinguistic and geodemographic causation: contact-induced morphosyntactic change in Asia Minor Greek.
Matthew Stave, Kilu von Prince and Frank Seifart	A usage-based approach to morphological typology
Natalia Stoyanova	Language-inherent variability or contact-induced change? The clitic že 'I mean' in Russian speech of Nanai and Ulcha speakers
Verena Weiland	Sociolinguistic parameters of Spanish fricative pronunciation: a corpusphonological study
Debra Ziegeler and Christophe Lenoble	Typological explanation and grammaticalization in a New English variety: Singapore English.
WS 15: INVESTIGATING LANGUAGE ISOLATES: TYPOLOGICAL AND DIACHRONIC PERSPECTIVES
Convenors: Iker Salaberri, Dorota Krajewska, Urtzi Reguero, Eneko Zuloaga, Borja Ariztimuno, Maitena Duhalde, Oxel Uribe-Etxebarria, Sergio Monforte, Ekaitz Santazilia & Koldo Ulibarri
Luca Alfieri	Linguistic isolates and the comparative method: On the controversial genetic affiliation of Burushaski
Anna Bugaeva	Ainu, an isolate in Northeast Asia: what makes it unique?
Natalia Chousou-Polydouri, Kellen Parker van Dam, Shelece Easterday, David Inman and Marine Vuillermet	Is there a typological profile of isolates?
Fernando O. de Carvalho	On the affiliation of Yaathe, a (presumed) isolate from northeastern Brazil: A research program and some tentative results
Spike Gildea and Katharina Haude	An Austronesian-type voice system in an Amazonian isolate
Ekaterina Gruzdeva and Juha	On the external and internal history of Nivkh (Amuric) in a comparative perspective

Janhunen
Abbie Hantgan	The case of the Big Bang - a methodology for tracing the history of a language and population isolate
Carmen Jany	California isolates: Language contact and genetic classification
Florian Lionnet	How typologically and areally unusual is Laal?
Julen Manterola	Etymologies and etymography in a language isolate: the case of Basque
Irina Nikolaeva	Syntactic reconstruction in isolates research: Proto-Yukaghir core grammar and Uralic
Jesus Olguin Martinez	Temporal adverbial clauses in language isolates
Thomas Schwaiger	Reduplication in language isolates: Special or run-of-the-mill?
Angela Terrill	Baroque accretions and isolation: A view on language isolates
Matthias Urban	Language Isolates and the linguistic prehistory of the Central Andes
Rik Van Gijn, Leonardo Arias, Nicholas Q. Emlen, Nora Julmi and Sietze Norder	The social life of isolates: a multidisciplinary approach to reconstructing the history of isolates in the north-west Amazon
WS 16: ITALIAN HERITAGE LANGUAGE COMMUNITIES Convenors: Margherita Di Salvo & Eugenio Gorla
Edoardo Cavarani	Gender and Number microvariation in Italian heritage varieties
Chiara Celata and Naomi Nagy	Phonological change in Heritage Italian spoken in Toronto: social factors and lexical frequency
Evandro L. T. P. Cunha	Designing and building a web corpus of Talian (Brazilian Venetian language)
Valentina Del Vecchio	The role of well-defined areas of origin in the trends of language contact phenomena in contexts of migration: The case of an Italian community in Bletchley (Milton Keynes)
Margherita Di Salvo and Naomi Nagy	Differential Object Marking in two Italian communities abroad: Diatopic and network variation
Maria Francesca Ferin, Miriam Geiss, Tanja Kupisch and Theodoros Marinis	Rhetorical Questions in German-dominant Heritage Speakers of Italian
Manuela Frontera	Cues of dialect attrition in Italian-Argentinian trilingual speakers
Guilherme D. Garcia and Natalia Brambatti Guzzo	Using corpus data to map phonological patterns in Brazilian Veneto
Marta Lupica Spagnolo	Italian in Transit: Attempting a definition on the basis of distribution and functions of generalized present infinitives
Silvia Natale and Stefania Marzo	Standardization of neostandard Italian abroad

Giulia Pepe	Between new and old: An analysis of the linguistic practices of post-war and post-2008 crisis Italian migrants in the UK
Andrea Peskova	Italian Heritage Speakers in Buenos Aires
Simone Pisano, Vittorio Ganfi and Valentina Piunno	Heritage Sardinian: a corpus-based study
Angela Ralli	Contrasting Italianese and Greek Canadian as target languages. The case of English loan nouns in the immigrant speech in Montreal (Canada)
Antonia Rubino	'Amore it's a sweet word': Attitudes towards heritage languages amongst third generation Australian-Italian youth
Lucija Šimičić and Ivana Škevin Rajko	Language ideologies, attitudes and practices among Italian speakers in Croatia
WS 17: MOUNTAIN LINGUISTICS Convenor: Matthias Urban
Marc Alllassonnière-Tang and One-Soon Her	Mountains, rivers, and word orders of numeral bases and classifiers in Tibeto-Burman
Raffaele Cioffi, Marco Angster, Marco Bellante, Paolo Benedetto Mas, Livio Gaeta, Adriano Murelli, Aline Pons, Gianmario Raimondi and Matteo Rivoira	Mountain Linguistics: The Western Alpine Landscape
Michael Daniel and Alexey Koshevoy	Language altitude and language size
Caleb Everett	A frequency-based approach to exploring potential effects of ambient air pressure reduction on ease of articulation
Henrik Liljegren	Small-scale convergence in the Hindu Kush mountain area
George Moroz	On the correlation between phoneme inventory size and elevation: the case of Dagestan
Johanna Nichols	Mountain river thinking: Vertiality and language stacks
Ronald Schaefer and Francis Egbokhare	Edo North: Refugium and Micro-Accretion Zone
WS 18: THE SYNTAX OF ARGUMENT STRUCTURE ALTERNATIONS ACROSS FRAMEWORKS - SAS21 Convenors: Svitlana Antonyuk, Ángel L. Jiménez-Fernández & Isabel Oltra-Massuet
Josep Ausensi and María Eugenia	Causative verbs and intransitive causatives

Mangialavori Rasia
Ane Berro, Ane Odria and Beatriz Fernández	The interaction between the implicit subject and the person restriction in Basque impersonals
Alison Biggs	On two classes of unaccusatives in Shantou Teochew (Southern Min)
Alessandro Bigolin and Josep Ausensi	Against a lexicalist account of the Argument-Per-Subevent Condition
Anna Bondaruk and Bożena Rozwadowska	Alternating arguments of Polish psych verbs
Isabel Crespí	Resultative and stative passives in Catalan: an approach from event structure
Mara Frascarelli	Focus Fronting and Argument Structure
Elisabeth Gibert-Sotelo and Rafael Marín	Argument structure alternations and aspectual shift in extent verbs
Peter Hallman	Argument hierarchies and alternations in causative and double object constructions
Heidi Harley	Polysemy and monosemy in the object-drop alternation
Margherita Pallottino	Restructuring antipassives: the argument structure of complex events
Cilene Rodrigues	When a possessor runs away from home, where does it go? A study on external possession and types of verbal argument structure
Juan Romero and Javier Ormazabal	Ditransitive Alternation as Raising to Object
Silvia Sánchez-Calderón	The syntactic alternating architecture of English and Spanish double object and prepositional dative constructions from an acquisition approach
Nomi Shir and Tova Rapoport	The lexicon-syntax and information structure interfaces
WS 19: TOWARDS A HOLISTIC UNDERSTANDING OF LANGUAGE CONTACT IN THE PAST
Convenors: Nikolaos Lavidas, Ioanna Sitaridou, and Igor Yanovich
Evangelia Adamou, Quentin Feltgen and Cristian Padure	A unified approach to the study of language contact: How cross-language priming drives change in noun-adjective order
Mary Baltazani, Joanna Przedlacka and John Coleman	Historical intonation and contact: two case studies
Hannah Davidson	Influences on Mauritian Creole's early development of past marking
Adina Dragomirescu	Word order in old Romanian: at the crossroad between Latin heritage and Old Church Slavonic influence
Andrés Enrique-Arias	Political influence and competing grammars in language contact: variation between este and aqueste in medieval Aragonese

Patience Epps	Specialist discourse, language contact, and language change: Observations from Amazonia
Daven Hobbs	Evolutionary Linguistics as a Theory of Language: Implications for Contact-Induced Change
Brian Joseph	Towards a Reductionist View of Language Contact Effects
Olesya Khanina and Valentin Gusev	Towards a holistic understanding of the linguistic past: the Northern Samoyedic case
Nikos Liosis	On the Grammar of Western Thrace Albanian: what is old or new, what is contact-induced or areal, and other inextricably intertwined questions.
Christopher Lucas	Towards an integrated model of change: language contact, dialect contact, internal variation
Friederike Lüpke	Multilingual presents as a window into multilingual pasts
Lutz Marten and Hannah Gibson	Tracing inheritance and contact in Bantu languages: Evidence from morphosyntactic variation
Antoine Primerano	Koineization and language contact in the history of Spanish: an examination of several morphosyntactic changes
Wojciech Sowa	Dialectology, typology and variation: the theory of 'Balkan Indo-European' and its implications for the history of the Ancient Greek dialects
Krzysztof Stroński	Language contact in South Asia – typology meets diachrony
Sali Tagliamonte	Contact as alignment: Community norms in bilingual Ontario
Ianthi Tsimpli, Alexandra Prentza and Maria Kaltsa	Language contact effects are bidirectional: morphosyntax and the view from feature interpretability
Stavroula Tsiplakou	Focus (on) clefts: aspects of gradience in bidialectal acquisition.
WS 20: WORD ORDER AND PROSODY Convenors: Maia Duguine and Aritz Irurtzun
Ricardo Etxepare	Verb-first restrictions in two varieties of Basque
Caroline Fery and Gisbert Fanselow	The role of prosody in a typological survey of discontinuous nominal phrases
Isabelle Franz, Markus Bader and Gerrit Kentner	The influence of rhythm on placing the German object pronoun
Cassandra Freiberg	Prosody-induced word order variation in Ancient Greek? Evidence from Herodotus' Histories
Keffyalew Gebregziabher	Word order anomalies in Tigrinya: Evidence for PF phenomena
Farhat Jabeen	Word order and intonation of wh-questions in Urdu
Benazir Mumtaz and Miriam Butt	Prosodic Phrasing in Interaction with Word Order and Case Marking in Urdu/Hindi
Kristina Riedel and Seunghun Lee	Focus word order and Penultimate Lengthening in two Bantu Languages

Heete Sahkai, Anders Holmberg and Anne Tamm	The Prosodic Structure of V2 Clauses in Estonian
Balázs Surányi and Ádám Szalontai	Focus-marking in prosody and word order in Hungarian: No escape from syntax
Myriam Uribe-Etxebarria	Revisiting the architecture of Polar Questions (PQs) and their answers